

Blue Highway

"Wild urge to ramble"

Visit "Wild urge to ramble" on MotoLyrics.com

I started on my wild urge to ramble
I stepped on hearts like pavement on the streets
I treated women just like chips to gamble and it didn't bother me to watch 'em leave

But I knew there was something different about her the first time that she ever spoke my name Her warm red lips erased all the others
She kissed me and completely changed the game

Chorus:

Right then I felt the whole earth a shakin' like a big ole tree had just hit the ground like a train a leavin' and it ain't a brakin' and there's nothing in this world can stop it now

But I fell back in my wild urge to ramble and it didn't take too long till she caught on in 14 minutes my world came unraveled
'cause that's how long it took her to get gone

Chorus

My life was useless without her I'd lost the only thing I'd ever loved I fell on my knees and cried to the Father God please forgive me I have strayed enough

Chorus

Visit Blue Highway page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.