Microphone check, microphone check

I'm a blue scholar worker studying the art of labor to create Flavor to relate to listeners, alleviate the danger associated with strangers Isn't it strange how we estrange ourselves from our neighbors?
Enables us through music to connect, releasing fluids in our neck
With the rhythmic forward movement of our heads and back again
Indeed as we succeed the pioneers Maybe give back all that we've been taking through the years I bleed, for what I believe to be the truth, nurturing the seed planted in the fertile youth The poetry, hangin from the branches eat the fruit Pluck the most succulent, and suck upon the juice
So what's up with you, frequently they ask Been hibernating writin till the last page cypherin the past days by Bypassing the lies and the bullshit Get up off the mic, and save it for the ??bull hit??

It's the blue school, class is in session
Ask us a question, cause class is in session [x4]

I'm an exile, motherland stepchild, metropolis dwellin middle Americas prisoner of war Combat the paper till the blankness is gone Listen now, talk about the beat after the song Astronomical, cause that is just a modest measurement
Of my ability to represent my family correct because I be about it,
Aint no other way to say it

Discovered my potential when I stayed late to tape it in the basement
With an ancient karaoke stereo in lieu of a studio, we made due with everythin Layin around, and if I'm not mistaken isn't that improvisation what hip-hop is all about

If you poppin at the lip then I will sock you in the mouth Sonically to render you the opposite of loud Apology accepted in advance, I think it's kinda cool at one point
That you thought you had a chance

It's the blue school, class is in session
Ask us a question, cause class is in session
[x4]

A veteran's fate written on pages of mixtapes
I'm all about a government that citizens dictate Sick of fuckin dealin with the presidents mistakes
To sit back and rant is just misplaced anger
So I cradle, pens, from now until the fable ends Taken friends for granted, but now I've got to make amends
Callin out the big talk small walkin cowards High above the ground yo we shakin out your tower
And demandin our money back, plus reimbursement
For parkin and shit, I put my heart in this shit Yo my arteries connect to the amplifier wire, Music make the flames in my inner fire higher
I reinvent the language in the image of a dancer Contorting where the floor becomes an answer Blue school graduate dog, after this last verse
When the revolution comes we're gonna shoot your ass first

It's the blue school, class is in session
Ask us a question, cause class is in session
[x4]

..strapped for protection, whatever you do Whatever you say, step up front. Be good at what you do.
At least be good at something. Writing, reading, producing, Djing, umm, cooking, cleaning, doing laundry, something. Learn an art, a trade, be somebody.
