"Black And Blue Tears"

Falling down the stairs
I wish it didn't hurt
But in the corner of my eye i see you cry
Black and blue the tears
Hypocrites die

This pain is piercing needles
These ears can't help but bleed
Tomorrow never goes
Where hypocrites lie
Its your time to die

In the summer we will go
When i get there you will know

Eighteen years and not for nothing
When there's promises like this
All I need is one wish
And I'll seal it with a kiss

Headlights on the road
Direct you where to go
These walls that wont scare

Anymore there is no distance
Between two hearts
But there are miles between us
Called home
