Yesterday has gone, but time is on my side
When Iâ'm on my own, I find a place to hide
Youâ're rushing through my head
Youâ're seeping through my skin

Heaven feels so close, it doesn't feel so late
Underneath these stars, well I don't know my name
Iâ'm lying in your arms
Iâ'm lying to your face
And right before my eyes
You turned and walked away

One thing she can't do
Is tell me what Iâ'm trying to prove
And what to say to you
Iâ'll be straight with you
I think I might be losing my way
Because you left me there for dead
I don't ever think Iâ'll get over you

One thing she can't do
Is tell me what Iâ'm trying to prove
And what to say to you
Iâ'll be straight with you
I think I might be losing my way
