[Intro: Morgan Freeman]

As the war between light and darkness continues
Heroes and villains become harder to identify.
Kindred spirits separated at birth,
Fighting for their place in time to be solidified.
The clock ticks faster and faster
While time runs a marathon
In this babylon.
But see, the end is only the beginning,
The beginning of the calm before the storm
I used to dream of success,
Now success is inadequate.
It seems the bigger I get, it's the more they get mad at me.
Cause it ain't no rules inside this fight that we battlin'
And it ain't no leftover scraps,
You only eat if you capture it.
And I swear it's like a fed up reality.
But creation needs a devil,
The devil needs an advocate, I guess
And I ain't too big on duality, but..
You think you know me?
You ain't seen the half of me.
So fly, no gravity.
So high, Mount Everest.
And the show must go on, yes.
But I don't have to act in it,
And they don't make a television that handles the frequencies of my channel.
And there ain't no computer that can hack it.
It just don't have the capacity,
Hell naw that ain't happenin'
You hustle? Well we are Grand Hustle,
Na we mastered it.
Y'all workin' on your bachelors,
We ball like the athletes.
Drink wine out of chalices on Sunday like we Catholics.
If this is an embassy,
Consider me ambassador.
Official, no artificial preservatives or additives
I love it all, but I ain't attached to it.
They call this a game,

Because it is exactly.
[Chorus]
Whenever I wake up,
I get this feeling,
That I can't wait up.
Cause time is ticking,
Bombs away (Bombs away) X2
And it seems like, in the grand scheme of it all.
The world's run by a few people and we never seen them at all.
How do they exist if we don't know who they are?
They can be you, they could be me,
They could be queens and gods.
Some say that we're slaves, an alien race created us
all.
From a distant star, some say through evolution we evolve
But if anything,
What you finna see is a change,
Don't be alarmed
And whoever they are,
Well I think that it's time we start takin' charge.
Fuck rules, fuck boss.
You can be whatever you want.
You could be a star, with a car,
With a house made out of gold.
And the springs, or the falls,
You could never see it all.
If you don't know what I mean,
Have you seen Niagara Falls?
Man I swear this world is ours,
But I've just been pushed too far.
Now I be beast mode up on these bars
Freak out a beat and then beat it out raw.
Good God, if I go this hard,
By the time i'm ninety I won't need viagra naw,
Even if I had a dog
I be the K9, naw I'd never bark.
Better watch out when you cross my yard.
I am a flame, I am the spark,
I am in drive, y'all are in park
Look at my shot, look at the arc,
Look at the crowd as soon as I start,
Look in they eyes and look in they hearts.
Two middle fingers straight at the law.
Sincerely yours, for petty your lord
Cause this is a war,
Ain't talkin' bout bullets and swords.
UFOs don't make any noise,
When they travel in hyper speed, so welcome abroad.
[Chorus]

Whenever I wake up,
I get this feeling,
That I can't wait up.
Cause time is ticking,
Bombs away (Bombs away) X2
Bomb Bomb Bomb Bomb
Bomb Bomb Bomb Bomb X3

[Chorus]

Whenever I wake up,
I get this feeling,
That I can't wait up.
Cause time is ticking,
Bombs away (Bombs away) X2

[Morgan Freeman]

As the mask of deception falls off the face of humanity
Unveiling the grim reality of duality
In which everyone is a casualty,
No one will be exempt.
Truth has many shades.
It's not a matter of black and white... but gray.
Althought many, we are one.
So in the final analysis,
Could it be that we are fighting a war that can't be won?
