(Lauriana Mae)

Hold me when I'm down

Bury my soul underneath the ground

Let my blood keep pumpin'

My heart keep beating

Shining like a chandelier

(B.o.B.)

What's a song if it don't have words

what's a word if it don't get heard

You can paint it any way that you like

How can you get the picture if it come out blurred

What life taught me can't be unlearned

And every bridge can't be unburned

Can't wait til you get your turn

Like you're tryin to make it home but you're still on 3rd

Look, your whole life need a renovation

Here, let me give you a demonstration

No limitations, no intimidations

I'm tryin to live good that's an understatement

They say life's about choices

In the face of defeat, I decline

Put your soul into everything, never back down

That's how you leave a legacy behind

(Lauriana Mae)

Hold me when I'm down

Bury my soul underneath the ground

Let my blood keep pumpin'

My heart keep beating

shining like a chandelier

(x2)

(Maher Rabah-Nasr)

The world don't stop so we don't quit

The show goes on, tomorrow's here today

So live your life and do yo thing

Enjoy each moment, it could slip away

Because nothing is promised, nothing is free

There ain't no receipts or guarantees

When its done there will be no service fee

Just a far away dream that you've yet to reach

That's why you gotta go all out for it

No half-time, gotta ball out for it

Full court press, life is the test

Can't play sick, can't call out for it
Cause I don't wanna fall, no skydiving
Stand tall through it all, that's a high riser Maher Rabah-Nasr is Making something out of absolutely nothing
That's the definition of a survivor
(Lauriana Mae)
Hold me when I'm down
Bury my soul underneath the ground
Let my blood keep pumpin'
My heart keep beating
Shining like a chandelier
(x2)
So let me be like the trees where I can rustle my leaves to join the wind in the sky
If this was all a mistake, I'd rather leave this place than be a breathing lie

Hold me when I'm down
Bury my soul underneath the ground
Let my blood keep pumpin'
My heart keep beating
shining like a chandelier
