"Wonderland"

You would rather be far away, just to have it go all your way

But can you afford the cost to pay
Your living in a dangerous wonderland [x5]

Well welcome to the wonder
The land of make believe
That make you believe your safe
Because this is the place to be
You feel alright as long as the feminine war stays overseas

And anyone over the border
You look at like the opposing team
Is this what it's sposed to be
Or am I just talkin emotionally
What if I expose my beliefs
That I hold real close to me
Would you call me crazy and put my face all over ya magamazines
Tell me
Do you actually think I'm as the same as I'm a have you see

You would rather be far away, just to have it go all your way

But can you afford the cost to pay
Your living in a dangerous wonderland [x5]

When I say the masses
Millions of kids in classes
One of them got kept backwards
For failure to do what they asked em
They will say he was stubborn and acted
Like he wasn't the son of a pastor
So he got him a pen and pad then Started rappin and singin and clappin
Just to make the days go by faster
And one day he decided he had it
And he left and he never look back at
All the relative mathamatics

So he took the lies and detracted them
And divided them like a fraction
And he opened his eyes and realized
That he tapped into the galactic
Off he blasted

You would rather be far away, just to have it go all your way
But can you afford the cost to pay
Your living in a dangerous wonderland [x5]

You would rather be far away, just to have it go all your
way
But can you afford the cost to pay
Your living in a dangerous wonderland [x5]

Wonderland [x16]

You would rather be far away, just to have it go all your
way
But can you afford the cost to pay
Your living in a dangerous wonderland
