

Bananafishbones

"Urban Laughter"

Visit "Urban Laughter" on MotoLyrics.com

And the fighting it went on
They were fighting 'til the crack of dawn
Urban laughter in the skies
In the end there was no one to survive

Oh that was an evil day
Urban laughter took me far away
Blood in mud, sulfur in clay
No god appeared it was an evil day

Still can hear them now
Urban laughter

Insane warcries all around
Lost my legs and now I'm to the ground
Giant horses armed in red
With fire nostrils oh they never bled

Their ghoulish riders made of tar
Crushed my head and turned my brain to jar
Flying swordsmen, three balrogs
Their whipping tails tearing right through raw rocks

Still can hear them now
Urban laughter
It's a warning

Don't get horny
'cause you bore me
When you adore me

And it feels like emptiness is taking over
And it hurts like everything is gone and over

"nail your guts onto that tree
The many rounds you go, your friends are free"
My memory fades into grey
Relief of pain my soul is far away.

Visit Bananafishbones page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

