Never trust your own emotions
They'll always let you down
(Always let you down)
And the one that's closest to you
May not always be around
(Always be around)

I never questioned
The promises you made
Every time I gave my heart
I was betrayed

What a fool
That I should ever believe
In love, truth and honesty
All the time just keep on hurting me

Maybe everyone's a stranger
I watch them come and go
(Watch them come and go)
But I think everyone's in danger
If they let their feelings show
(Let their feelings show)

There's a lesson
And a price you have to pay
If you give your heart

Don't let it be betrayed

What a fool
That I should ever believe
In love, truth and honesty
All the time just keep on hurting me

What a fool
Every time I find I'm deceived
Where is the love, truth and honesty
If you see it won't you bring it on home to me?

There's a lesson
And a price you have to pay

If you give your heart
Don't let it be betrayed

What a fool
That I should ever believe
In love, truth and honesty
All the time just keep on hurting me

What a fool
Every time I find I'm deceived
Where is the love, truth and honesty
If you see it won't you bring it on home to me?

What a fool
That I should ever believe
In love, truth and honesty
All the time just keep on hurting me
