Better make tracks fast on the doubles
The girl's jazzy but she's nothin' but trouble

You take her where she wants to go
And every day you let her know
She's the one who's always on your mind

But she just cops an attitude
Leads you on then leaves you blue
Can't you see she's really just a waste of time?

One day she'll treat you nice
Then she turn as cold as ice
But you think your love will win her
In the end, think again

She ain't worth it, the girl ain't worth it
All this grief that she's been puttin' you through
She ain't worth it, the girl ain't worth it
Believe me I know, I know better than
Better than, better than, bet-better than you

Gets you hot then leaves you cold
Keeps you waiting on the phone
'Cause she knows you'll always give her one more try

You're not the only boy in town
And she loves playin' to the crowd
But tell me do you really like standin' in line

You give her everything you have
And all she does is make you sad
What she really wants to do
Is tell her friends she did it again

She ain't worth it, the girl ain't worth it
All this grief that she's been puttin' you through
She ain't worth it, the girl ain't worth it
Believe me I know, I know better than
Better than, better than, bet-better than you

I'd like to say she used to be my girl

But that would be a lie, that would be a lie
'Cause there's no one in this whole wide world
That could keep her satisfied, I know 'cause I tried

Jump in, one thing I hate is when a girl plays fake
And tries to make me late for another date
'Cause I've tried to make you mine for the last time
So take this here as a dis and a goodbye

She ain't worth it even though she's on the high tip
She better get a grip, and get a grip quick
Fast in a hurry 'cause I won't buckle
The girl's jazzy but she's nothin' but trouble

Give her everything you have
And all she does is make you sad
What she really wants to do
Is tell her friends she did it again

She ain't worth it, the girl ain't worth it
All this grief that she's been puttin' you through
She ain't worth it, the girl ain't worth it
Believe me I know, I know better than
Better than, better than, bet-better than you
