Got A lot of living, living to do I put up with enough, more than I can Chew I closed the door and threw away the key on yesterday's dreams

woke up one day
so much on my mind scared by the years eaten up by time I closed the door and threw away the key

sorry for the pain the pain that i caused thank you for the time....it's because yesterday's dreams, they came and went one way street to another event but I had to close the door and throw away the key on yesterday's dream notions breath a single thought up against what other's thought i closed the door and threw away the key on yesterday's dreams

i chose me, my life unfold i always had trouble doing what I'm told I closed the door and threw away the key on

sorry for the time, the time that i lost thank you for the chance.. it's because yesterday's deams, they came and went
one way street to another event

on yesterday's dreams x3
