I've been staring at the page
For what seems like days I guess I put this one off for a while Did I see a tear fall from your eyes
Or did you laugh so hard that you cried
When I served my secrets on a silver tray to you
Hey now, I guess the night's just bringing me down Chorus: There's no love, there's no hate I left them there for you to take But, know that every word was a piece of my heart

You've been the blood in my veins
The only one who knows my middle name
And the smiles they came easy
'cause of you
You know that I love you, but I hate you
'Cause I know I can never escape you Let the choir
sing for tonight
I'm an easy mark Hey now, am I acting just a little too proud

Chorus:

Have I said too much
Maybe I haven't said enough
But
know that every word was a piece of my heart Hush me darling, maybe I've lost my touch Maybe I've
lost my guts - there, is that truth enough Hey now, Hey
now

You know these love letters mix with whisky Just don't light a match when you kiss me Though I'll blow away,
you know I'll be back soon Hey now, Hey now, Hey now, am I talking just a little too loud

Chorus

Have I said too much
But
Hey now, am I talking just a little too proud Hey now, the night's just bringing me down
