"If I Could Teach The World"
Bone Thugs-N-Harmony

Krayzie:

Why do I stay high? . . .

Bizzy:

Why do I stay high? . . .

Krayzie:

If I could teach the world [whole wide world] to be a thug in
harmony, harmony,
then I would teach the world [whole wide world] to be a thugsta
just like me, like me.

Krayzie:

How many more days on this old earth? Can you see?
It's blind
to me, so we should get ready for Armageddon, 'cause I know
God should be ready to roll. Do away with the wickedest shit like Mr. Policeman, and, dog, if you with it, then pump up your fist in the air, then pray for the politicians freely, get an
amen,
the last days of the last day, day, day.

Bizzy:

That's why I get high. That's why I get high. I'm holdin' on to my soul, but nobody knows when it all unfolds, and then when I go,
I go. Remember the bad 'cause all of the good I got all on my own when Bone found Mo, muggin' thuggin' through your door.
Hoes speakin' of the last, the time when I'm passed. At trial, they wanted me get down, but I can't go wrong when I flip it with my
song, better turn it on, 'cause you love that thuggish ruggish Bone

Bone Bone Bone, Crossroads, wanna rule the world?
No I don't,
'cause too many of us lost those who meant so much.
Why wasn't
I chose? But He will not stop clones, two shots don't drop Bone,
no oh, oh, oh, and if I could teach the world to be a thug like me,
then they probably be thuggin' in heaven eternally.

Layzie:
Everyday the world goes round and round. I see it's a small world
after all, 'cause I can go meet, and I greet with my fans, smoke a little weed and have a little laugh with ya'll, but every now and then, I gets caught up in the playa hation. Lord, what's wrong with this nation? Erase 'em. But if I could to teach the world to be a thug just like me, you could live your lifestyle worry-free in the arms of the Lord eternally. No mystery, but check the essence of the story: a warrior, wasteland warrior so true. Divine-- it's mine,
East 1999, it's where you're findin' all of my kind everytime.

Krayzie:
If I could teach the world[whole wide world] to be a thug in
harmony, harmony,
then I would teach the world [whole wide world] to be a
just like me, like me [if I, if I].

Krayzie:
We stand as united, but fall if divided. My thugs is the tightest,
'cause God is our guide, and they only define us as killas and fighters. The critics and writers backstab when typin' our story.
The war to be warrior, that's for sure, and as thugs we're more and more and more and more.

Wish:

I got, we got too much shit to give, got shit to give,
especially,
but still understood by the older folks and little kids.
Come on, all a y'all, follow me. Bone, way to go, we know the way to go, follow me, follow me, Bone, and that's why I stay high, 'cause I got shit
to deal with--the government and these playa haters out to kill
Wish, wanna hurt this, but, uh uh, I got true Mo Thug niggas you just can't fuck with, artillery you can't come with. Nigga, better let it rest, shit. To the little boys and girls all over the world, this shit
that we say's for the streets--not for you to go and do or to repeat.
Please, if we can, no more murder amongst ourselves.
If we can,
no more murder.
Krayzie:
If I could teach the world[whole wide world] to be a thug in harmony, harmony then I would teach the world [whole wide world]
to be a thugsta just like me, like me.
with Bizzy:
Why do I stay high? . . .
