Dreamin' by the fire at the Gulf of Mexico Somebody's playin' a lovesong
With a six string homesick tone

Memories of summer the first time we made love
And a promise left unspoken
I saw in a shooting star

The Southern wind was blowin' as if he wants to say The words I whispered in my hear only yesterday

You're my only one - my risin' sun
You're the air I wanna breathe
Girl you're everything I need My shining star - that's what you are
And as long my heart will beat You'll be everything - everything I need

The fire is still burning I was humming to the song Couldn't think of all the words so I made them up my own

Like a secret door that opens these words just set me free And the promise left unspoken was the owner of the key

Oh Southern wind keep blowin' please carry me back home There's somebody who is waiting and I've gotta let her know

You're my only one - my risin' sun
You're the air I wanna breathe
Girl you're everything I need
And as long my heart will beat

You'll be everything - everything I need

And when Southern Winds are blowin' they might even bring some rain But the promise left unspoken will always be the same
