I press my face against the window of my heart staring through the pane my dreams of love seem cold and dark

I must keep searching though I walk this road alone the heart is a lonely hunter

Am I the only one who's never seen the light this endless quest just keeps me running through the night

I keep believing that someday love will arrive
'cause only the strong survive

And baby the heart is a lonely hunter
hungry like a beast that stalks the night beating the signal drums waiting for love to come
oh the heart is a lonely hunter

My heart is pounding as I'm slowly closing in I know he's out there I can feel it in the wind
I must keep fighting just to keep the dream alive
'cause only the strong survive

hungry like a beast that stalks the night
beating the signal drums waiting for love to come
oh the heart is a lonely hunter

Beating the signal drums waiting for love to come
oh the heart is a lonely hunter
is a lonely hunter
