Fear consumed me, hatred in my eyes, Why? Because of the world we live in and the absence of God. My wretched life was full of so much strife, until met the one, there is love in the Son. I was brought into the world not knowing You, and the example of how to live led me far away. I thought of God as an angry fist in the sky, knowing one day I would pay. Born Blind. I once was lost but now I'm found. You know that I was born blind, until; God opened up my eyes. I went to church because I was bored, I went there just to play the game. Until one day I met you, you are the truth, forgiving, everlasting.
