Time is coming to an end.
Prepare for the worst to come.
You arise, but your life has run dry.

Show me the answers I've been looking for.
Where did they come from?

Nothing seems real anymore.
I am no stranger of hatred and lies.
We're lost and there's nothing left.
Fear is the only thing that keeps us alive.

Lose what you have in mind, what keeps us alive.
You all will be taken away.

Burn this place so we can celebrate.
A start of a brand new day.

New beginning, time for change.
New beginnings, time for change.

Don't always hide the fury and sit in silence.
The less I hear the more I'm scared.
Feel the victory and jump into a sea of serenity.
Let the water clean your dreams,
afraid to let go of everything.

Trying to keep unity and make a statement.
But you bleed, your head is spilling.

All the judgments, all the wars.
All the rivalry we face is leaking on the floor.

When will it be okay to come outside?

The storm is dying.
The rain is done.

The composure of my soul is harmonized by the sounds that travel into me.

Show me the answers I've been looking for.
Where did they come from?
Nothing seems real anymore,
I am no stranger to all of this bullshit.

Time is coming to an end.
Prepare for the worst, try to keep unity.
Make a statement but you bleed your head is spilling.
All the wars, all the rivalries.

The composure of my soul is harmonized by the sounds that travel into me
