So many things I know I need to tell you
But everything is gonna be alright
The pain you feel right now is hard to get through
But we'll be stronger on the other side

You know it's true just look behind these eyes

And I, I want you to know
It can't wait for tomorrow
You're a star that's what you are
I'll never let you go
I want you to see you're more than everything
My heart and soul, you make me whole
You're everything to me

Don't you know that I could never hurt you
And sometimes we just can't see eye to eye
These days all we seem to do is argue
I wonder when the love got left behind
Forget that, lets start over tonight

And I, I want you to know
It can't wait for tomorrow
You're a star that's what you are
I'll never let you go
I want you to see you're more than everything
My heart and soul, you make me whole
You're everything to me

So take a look around and find
No matter where you are in time
I'll be the one who's watching over you
So when you're reaching for a hand
I'll be the one who understands
I'll be the net for you to fall into

And I, I want you to know
I can't wait for tomorrow
You're a star the way you are
I'll never let you go
I want you to see you're more than everything
My heart and soul, you make me whole

You're everything to me

So many things I know I need to tell you

(You're everything to me)

But everything is gonna be alright

(You're everything to me)

So many things I know I need to tell you

(Everything to me)

But everything is gonna be alright
