ask me a question and I'll fill you full of lies I know now the truth is bigger than my disguise the message that I sent was shot down long ago all I wanted was a simple yes but baby you said no you can't see my point of view you're too caught up in protecting you I'll put on a smile and wait just like I often do then I'll make myself a promise too

I need correspondence so please give me an answer do could you repeat that one more time so I believe in you I've got a unique talent for seeing things that other people can't I know your heart is shot full of holes from mistakes made in the past

I put on a smile and wait just like I often do you say we're friends so I'll just guard this heart if I dont you might tear me apart

tear me apart

I know you dont believe it I could never do that to you how I wish that you could see it all from the eyes i look thru

but you can't see my point of view you're too caught up in protecting you
you say were friends so I'll just guard this heart
if i dont you might tear me apart

tear me apart
you cant see my point of view (tear me apart)

cus you're too caught up in protecting you (tear me apart)
I put on a smile and wait just like I often do
