Oh yeah
Won't you tell me why?
Oh yeah
Won't you tell me why?

You found another guy
You found another guy, my love
You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy, my love

In the beginning things were just fine
I was so romantic, I thought that you were mine
I saw so happy, now I'm depressed
I'm just so tired of this loneliness

You packed your bags then you went away
I haven't seen you since that cold, cold day, yeah
I gotta have you back, no matter what it takes
So tell me why, you found another guy

You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy
You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy
You didn't want me no more

I've been walkin' around, things ain't the same
Since you've been gone, I'm feelin' this pain
In my heart, it's so strong, so please come home
I've been waiting for you all night long

You packed your bags then you went away
I haven't seen you since that cold, cold day
I gotta have you back, no matter what it takes
So tell me why, you found another guy

You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy

You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy
You didn't want me no more
You didn't want me no more

Tell me why
I gotta have you back, no matter what it takes
So tell me why, you found another guy

You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy
You found another guy
Tell me why

You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy
You found another guy
Tell me why

You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy
You found another guy
Tell me why
You found another guy
You found another guy
Tell me why

You found another guy
Tell me why
