It's over
Look out below
And I'm wasted
I still taste it
Ya it's so hard to let go

Breath in now
And breath it out
It's a forecast
A car crash
It's lookin like another
Break down
Rebound
This could be my last goodbye
You cross your heart
I hope to die

And I
Can't deny your eyes
You know i tried to read between the lines
A solemn word inside
And then you threw me
Up against the wall
Who said that it's better to have felt to lost
I wished that i had never loved at all

No rewinds
No second times
And i won't break
I won't waste
Everything you left behind

Don't follow
Just let it go
The weather's
Been better
Don't let it be another
Break down
Rebound
This could be my last goodbye
You cross your heart
I hope to die

And I
Can't deny your eyes
You know i tried to read between the lines
A solemn word inside
And then you threw me
Up against the wall
Who said that it's better to have felt to lost
I wished that i had never loved at all

Out tonight
Suspicious when you leave me and your
Out there on your own
Out tonight
Waited by the phone
When you were coming in alone
And all your different faces
And all your different ways
To makin everything a mess
Did it all tell ya
Theres a lot of different places
And all the complications
Made
Today

Since I
Can't deny your eyes
You know i tried to read between the lines
A solemn word inside
And then you threw me
Up against the wall
Who said that it's better to have felt to lost
I wished that i had never loved

And I
Can't deny your eyes
You know i tried to read between the lines
A solemn word inside
And then you threw me
Up against the wall
Who said that it's better to have felt to lost
I wished that i had never loved at all
(never loved at all)
