The nights grow cold
I'm growin older
Every day you're gone
Is more lonesome then the last one
I've spent all this time
Without you in my life
And you're still on my mind
And nothing ever feels alright

I'm tired of being alone
Why don't you just come home?
Because I miss you so
And I want you to know

If you could see me now
We could move on somehow
If you could drive along for miles a day
Between us long ago
If you could just see me now
You wouldn't have a doubt
We could just start this love all over
And forget the things we know
If you could see me now
(Somehow)

Everything I said
Wasn't what i meant
I hope you can forget
And I can leave all my regrets
Behind tonight
Get your flight to Boston
And come start a new life
And this time we can do it right

I'm tired of being alone
Why don't you just come home?

Because I miss you so
And I want you to know

If you could see me now
We could move on somehow

If you could drive along for miles a day
Between us long ago
If you could just see me now
You wouldn't have a doubt
We could just start this love all over
And forget the things we know
If you could see me now
Somehow

[Guitar solo]

If you could see me now
We could move on somehow
If you could drive along for miles...

If you could see me now
We could move on somehow
We could move on somehow
Between us long ago
Somehow
