saw you out for the floor to feedback in time when you were mine, i realized i want you even more give me one more chance, i can show you i can be a better man tell me where did you go, I've been longing for your touch

if i had one one one, if i had one more night with you if i had one one one, i would make it up to you

give it to you all night, you would love me for night baby let me hold you close, makes you feel the way i did back from the hips to your toes, wanna touch you in the places that you love the most tell me where did you go, I've been longing for your
