Step into the light and join the everlasting battle between good and evil.
A battle of the minds being fought each and every day.
Coming out of the black, taking over, it's my way down, when I'm here alone.
Am I supposed to pretend I don't feel the pain, like it happens again Destroyed, we watch you bleed coming through, what you need My faith makes you cry, handfull of lies
Out of my sight, and out of my mind
but the vision is still the same Arena
You'll never know why, the skull of the blind welcome into my arena
And we die, and we breed, waisted hands that need to feed, got to fill my empty stare You're broken by words, you're whipped by the lies but they won't bring me down.
Shadows fall from the sky Summon all to, heed their cry, tempted in sin, it's no fate, gather the souls, they hold within so for the world, who's to blame, woke up wet from a dream
tempted in sin, it's no fate, gather the souls, they hold within
