still can't believe i'm even writing this one stoop down all the way down here address this shit that is so far beyond beneath me calling out some cowards who will never even face me ducked that shit for years it never even phased me cause I have always known that it's the haters who blow the wind in our sails simple words, simple minds from those who will not look me in the eye but then I heard you took your shots at some very good friends of mine a band who stands for everything that I hold dear I could not let it slide, I could not get it off my mind they were just trying to say goodbye and you had to run your mouth showed your lack of all it takes to be that great you tried to tear them down so fucking filled with envy it's got you ripping the wings off flies kills you to see all of those fists in the air voices united by a spirit that never took hold in you you've already become the angry dad yelling, "turn that noise down!"
I just don't know how all this good got so lost on you but you can't cloud the ending of something that burned so bright so you just sit and bitch while they travel the whole wide world you've never been a part of this of all the good that they have tried to do so you just hide behind that screen I know you're hearing this all that I think of you you are nothing
you did nothing you brought nothing you touched nothing you built nothing
you meant nothing
