Waking up to nothing at all
What have I accomplished
I'm so far down I can't find myself
Where did I go wrong
But in the end there is nothing left
How much more can I take

Cause I can't find my self
What have I become
I let myself go
It's all inside my mind is going numb
How much more can I take

It's the fear of knowing I'm not
Good enough for this world
This world of hate you tell me lies
About my life about my fate

Cause I can't find my self
What have I become
I let myself go
It's all inside my mind is going numb
How much more can I take

Get out of my head and get your own life
You know nothing about me I'm sick and tired of your lies
Get out of my head and get your own life

How much more can I take
Cause I can't find my self
What have I become
I let myself go
It's all inside my mind is going numb
How much more can I take
