Here we are again, don't understand your lies
We can't go on this way, until we realize
I wonder if I should, done everything I could
But it's too hard to try, when I'm empty inside

Open up your eyes
I'll lead you to the light
And find a way to try
Everything in sight
In my way I know
Where you must follow
I'll take you to a place
Where you will find Blood

I take a walk outside, and try wonder why
This fucked up head of mine, is taking over
Well I can't control your life
And you can't control my mind
But it's too hard to try, when I'm empty inside

Open up your eyes
I'll lead you to the light
And find a way to try
Everything in sight
In my way I know
Where you must follow
I'll take you to a place
Where you will find Blood
