Found myself today
I took my cross up and walked away with amazing grace and an open eye
Even though I was born to lose my way tomorrow comes on a hurricane
But the weight of the world™ s been on your mind
In the morrow I™ ll be gone
I gave it everything I had for so long
Save your sorrow for your song
Don™ t we always find a way to carry on?
No-one sees it coming
And no-one walks when they should™ ve been running
And nothing hurts like knowing you tried
You can see how years could slip away
In the cold dark nights and the long hard days
But nothing aches quite like goodbye
In the morrow I™ ll be gone
I gave it everything I had for so long
Save your sorrow for your song
Don™ t we always find a way to carry on
In the morrow I™ ll be gone
I gave it everything I had for so long
Save your sorrow for your song
Don™ t we always find a way?
In the morrow I™ ll be gone
I gave it everything I had for so long
Save your sorrow for your song
Don™ t we always find a way to carry on?
Don™ t we always find a way to carry on?
