"Without You"

now people say they can't live without love when i know i can't live without you not just a feeling, i really mean it i gotta have you with all the lonely hearts in the world i know that i got my girl no one can take that away from me
i spend my own life just loving you right cos i love to see you smile and when things get harder

not without you, not without love not without everything that we work for without you i would be lost no motivation, no hesitation
not without you see the crazy little thing about me is i don't care what nobody thinks if i wanna love you, i'm gonna love you that's just how it will be some people try to run my life but they don't feel what i feel inside they'll never know you the way i know you they don't even wanna try give one day i i have to run and hide i know, i know that i won't be alone

and when things get harder

not without you

not without love everything we worked for i would be lost

not without you, not without you no no no no
not without you
