On time not so long ago
I was searching for things I didn't know
One time not so far behind
I was certain of things I thought were mine
This is what i found
A new sun rising will one day come down
And it's just like you wanted
It's just like a dream
And it's all that you thought
That you would ever need and...
One time replayed in my mind
I was coming up for the first time and
One place where I left no trace
I was reading the look onevery face
Time is not your friend moments all reach an end Time finds a way to pass seconds through the hourglass
All that you thought you had passes like another fad
Coming to your wit's end starting all over again
And it's just like you wanted

It's just like dream
And it's all that you thought that you would ever need and...
One day I woke up and I found
That nothing was as it seemed
One day found that nothing was left
Of perfection but perfect memories
This is what I've found
A new sun rising will one day come down
And it' just like you wanted
It's just like a dream
And it's all that you thought
That you would ever need and
And it's just like you wanted
It's just like a dream
And it's all that you asked for What you wanted to be
Is it just like you wanted?
Because nothing's for free
Is it all that you thought that you would ever be?
