Clean, perfect lines
Cutting up the skies
A triumph of the intellect
And nothing seen in nature
Leave earth behind
Crying to mankind
Why have you forsaken me?
For convenience and comfort?
When the world had gave you all you needed to live
Accept every word
For a better life
Make me free, so civilized
Caress me, strike me blind
May be true love, but she don't reunite (?)
This steal and glass
Is beginning to decay
I will never lie
As we with paranoia
Are the weeds that truth will live from me
So as we wait
For a better life

Make me free and so civilized
Caress me, strike me blind
May be true love, but she don't reunite (?)
Seduce me of a better life
Make me free and so civilized
Caress me, strike me blind
It may be true love, but she don't reunite (?)
Our crack is a nightmare
The sweet smells is everywhere
Another newborn baby cries
At the sight of most staring eyes
Someone soonll be done away
By the night sweets of decay
Every street corner is a felony
Dark alleys are accessories
What did you expect from this? (x3)
What did you expect?
