

Break Away "Realize"

Visit "Realize" on MotoLyrics.com

We try in our existence, To make to the best of what we get Success through our persistence, But lose sight of the goals we set Blinded by human nature, Violence begets violence
I know I'm not the one to talk, But still I can't stay silent

We live our lives too fast
We toil and labor to break our fucking backs
To make life more than what it seems In pursuit of the American Dream

Why must a nation war, too many flags unfurled and soared
How can we live this life day to day, When our rights are being torn
The parchment paper burns must easier, When it's soaked in gasoline Shred amendments for a resource, We must find some other means
And so on, And so on The story is so long, it's so long
And it ends, As it starts With such confusion, We must see true to our hearts

Real Eyes, Realize, Real Lies
