Hey there
Blue collar
Is this what you've worked for
How you've aged
Over these short years

Hey there
Young child
You've thrown caution to the wind
How can you live
Knowing that tomorrow will come

You've lost your innocence

Where will it end?

We saw it all perish
Ashes, turn to the earth
From the kingdom
To live to love to die
To the world, to the grave, to the deep blue sky
Don't say a word
We watch the clouds come sweeping in
Over our land
I won't say a word
Alone in my passion

Cut it down
This tree is dead
Give it purpose
Keep you (us) warm
To rewrite history
Is a difficult task?
We've tried so hard, but we failed
