

Breaking The Fourth Wall

"Nobody Names Their Kid Barbara Anymore"

Visit "Nobody Names Their Kid Barbara Anymore" on MotoLyrics.com

And it seems that luck wasn't on that boy's side
When the leader of the parish, caught his eye
And it appears that god wasn't there that night
As his mother cries in agony for the innocence
Stolen from her sons life

Lady Babylon lies on her back
But where do we go from here
It's the lying leading liars
Drawn by the warmth of the fire

What have we done?
It's just a game
The charades we play
Searching through the lost and found
It's the blind leading the blind

She said to forget she ever came this way
To the place were the sick and the blind dwell
But we're trying to find ourselves

And I'm so sick of Hearing it on the news
My god were do we go from here
Our paths aren't so clear
You've gambled your life
So turn your eyes away from the dead
And focus on the living

Visit Breaking The Fourth Wall page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.