We've gotta get out of this place she said,
And follow our hearts to content she said,
I want it all but there's nothing you can do to stop me
now,

And oh my god the way you look tonight,
Oh my god I think it's happening,
And this could be the way for us to change,

Oh no, this could be the way for us to change,

It's the kind of touch you go to sleep with,
No turning back I'm going for this,
I can feel my breathe growing faster,
You keep me warm when we sing together,
The kind of songs that make our hearts beat,
I think this could be it right now,

Lets call out all our fears right now,
And open hearts with clear content,
We know it's all about the way it comes out of that Mouth and mind,
And oh my god I think it's happening,
Oh my god the way you look tonight,
And this could be the way for us to change,

And this could be the right time to say,
I need you more now than ever,
This could be the right time to say
