I've got no hold, no claim just a dreamlike obsession You've got a life, love and plane of your own Still everbody wants you but I want you the most I've got no hold, no claim but I'll take you away Give you what you want everyday Everybody wants you, but I'll take you away I'll have you yet There's just no place for emotional goodbyes But my heart screams my body aches I want to drag you home I want to kiss your face Don't just disappear I'll take you away Don't just disappear I'll take you Don't just disappear I'll take you, I'll take you Don't just disappear I'll take you, I'll take you If I can find a way tonight Don't think it's that I don't mind Don't just disappear I'll take you away Don't just disappear I'll have you yet I keep on running till I don't know why And I can't find the time to try Don't just disappear I'll take you away Don't just disappear I'll have you yet I'm searching for words tonight But nothing seems to turn out right Don't just disappear I'll take you away Don't just disappear I'll have you yet
