"FLOWERS DIE"

Cold days of winter have come & gone
Wonder what summer will bring
Maybe a new love to carry me on
But first got to get through the spring
I don't know why but all the rivers
They've gone & run dry First off, and
The last to go home There's a rustling
Behind me turn. I should have known

There's nothing there to see I find myself
Searching for the real thing and I don't Know how I'll be hurting you this time
Came here a long time ago
Been around since I don't know when
Stuck it out even though
I knew I didn't fit in but I feel so helplessly alone
I feel so alone I feel so alone now I feel so alone now
