

Breathless

"I Never Know Where You Are"

Visit "I Never Know Where You Are" on MotoLyrics.com

It always seems to matter (I want everything)
It always seems to show (Everything about you)
Endless reasons
Conditions for everything
Endless problems
That don't mean a thing, no.
I never know where you are
And I never know who you're with.
I want everything about you.
I never know where you are And I never know who you're with Ahh, Say it's a laugh Say it's a shame I woke up today and thought about you
It's a day like any other.
There's something... something that you'll never have
There's something... something that you'll never have.
Too close for comfort And too close for words You've suffered every mood I ever thought I'd Ever have
That's all I ever think about now
That's all I ever think about now

It always seems to matter It always seems to show.
So what's new in this light Is as good as we'll get I'll never know where you are You'll never know who I'm with
And it always seems to matter
And it always seems to show.
I wonder what it all could be like If I was at all what you hoped I could be Well that's very good of you But I want everything right now (I never know where you are)
I want everything right now. (I never know who you're with)
It always seems to matter (That's all I ever think about now) It always seems to show (That's all, all about you.)
I want everything right now (I never know where you are) I want everything right now (I never know who you're with.)

Visit Breathless page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
