I told you not to come too near, I didn't tell you to disappear. Did I? Make no mistake I'm so far gone, I'd break my back to make you happy. Believe me, please believe me. It didn't have to come to this....believe me. I doubt myself in all I say (?) These feelings, I can't just live for them. I raise them up and I mislead you, then I tear them all away. I go crazy when I'm with you, and you're all I think about whenever You're gone away. It didn't have to come to this. Pull it all apart, take it anywhere you want it to go....and I'll be there. Take my heart - it was always yours. Take my love - it was always yours. Take my life - you can call it yours. Take my life - you can call it yours. Oooh, you can call it yours believe it or not it was always yours.
