Toodididoot Toodididoododo

Someones knocking at my door
But I'm too lazy for a political conversation
What now you know that I can't hear
What all the masses here and there like to buy

And you can't sing all you like
Sing all you like
Sing all you...
Cause people still need money for food

Maybe I should stay in school
And learn to make a living
Selling things that I don't love

Maybe singing is a luxury
And when you can't afford it someday
It's possible you'll starve

And you can't sing all you like
Sing all you like
Sing all you...
Cause people still need money for food

If you happen to see me on the street
Would you please give me coins and a drink
Sing all you like
People still need people who have money
To give money for food
