"So Unique"

Go and take your foolish pride,
Try to push it deep inside.
Found out in ambitious emotion.
Filled your mind with chaos and commotion.

Some say to inhabit this earth you must be meek.
Obedience to some may leave you weak.
You made for her your secret potion.
To turn her heart with true devotion.

Was never one to be superstitious.
I found that potion to be delicious.
Free will gone-was it a trick?
Impassioned with a man until it made me sick.

Hoping you find all that you may seek.
In you thoughts you are so unique.
Didn't listen when I would speak.
My words were wise and never bleak.
