(verse 1)

I'm sending this to you, to see if you're ok.
I haven't seen you in days.
I guess that you're doing fine without me near.
I wish that I could say the same, could say the same.

(chorus)

I lost myself at the window, staring at the falling snow.
Vapors clouding my reflection.
My breath has never felt so cold.
I shut myself inside this room,
'cause there is no where else to go.
I wish that you were here beside me.
You know I just can't let it go.

(verse 2)

Could you please remind me of how it all went wrong.
I am still pretty confused.
You took the best of me
'cause that was all I gave you.
It must have not been good enough.
Am I good enough.

(chorus)

(solo)

(bridge)

Is there anything I can do to change your mind.
Do you think that things might heal in time.
I was all about you.
There's nothing that I would not do,
To hear you say again that you are mine, that you are mine.

(chorus)
