Wasted Days and Wasted nights,
I feel lonely.
I walk these streets and wonder why
I ever listened to them say
"You are not the one for me"
But they were wrong
They don't see the things I see

When everyone turns to go
I won't leave you
When everything new gets old
I won't listen
When everyone says
I'll be better alone
I say this heart has a mind of it's own

When I see you across the room
Time stands still
Everytime I undress you
My heart starts to fall
In my arms, lay with me, a little while
Let the world just fade away - You and Me.

When everyone turns to go
I won't leave you
When everything new gets old
I won't listen
When everyone says
I'll be better alone
I say this heart has a mind of it's own

Let the world come crashing down - You can smile,
Cos you know that I won't let you down
Let me be the only sound, You can hear

Fall in my arms and lay with me - a little while
Let the world just fade away - You and Me

When everyone turns to go
I won't leave you
When everything new gets old
I won't listen

When everyone says
I'll be better alone
I say this heart has a mind of it's own

When everyone turns to go
I won't leave you
When everything new gets old
I won't listen
When everyone says
I'll be better alone
I say this heart has a mind of it's own
