all we have is love
oh, we're growing faster than we ever could have dreamed and our bellies are bulging we're gonna burst right through our seams it's got us all in competition for wealth and recognition globalization I say's a contradiction for we can't keep paving over this world we won't all fit in all that we have is hope and love
so don't you worry child
don't you worry 'bout a thing (in the night?)
but those can lift us up
so we can rise above
so we can rise above
and all that we have is hope and love
(in the night?)
so we can rise
so we can rise above the madness and there's enough wealth for everyone but some have the most and most have some
and there's enough food for us all to flourish tell me why are so many malnourished you say this weakness in an empty pocket, no and I'll tell you this weakness in an empty heart and you say there's strength in the power to control and I'll tell you no, there's strength in only love and compassion
all that we have is hope and love
(in the night?)
so we can rise above

(in the night?)
soon we'll find our own way home
'cause we all need a little healing sometimes
'cause we all need a little healing
so give love
it's the only thing that heals you come on sisters, give it to your brothers
so give love it's the only thing that heals you come on brothers, give it to your sisters
and I can rest to show you that love will always cure you no matter what your sickness is no matter what hurts you so give love it's the only thing that cures you we all need a little healing and if you give it, I have learned it'll all be returned if you only give love if you only just give your love
(in the night?)
so we can rise above
so we can rise above
(in the night?)
