

Brettell "America"

Visit "America" on MotoLyrics.com

I don't know, what I am packing, and
I don't know, if I'm making
The prices are turning yellow
I think I'll have another pill
And Bring! A further way to fly now
This must be
For the very first time
I've been here for much too long
This is the time we smile

I'm flying half way across the world
Live for a while, but rep no words
In America
I'm flying half way across the world
Sleep for a while, but say no words
In America , In America

I've been, for the merry coats to come
This sure is
Not the very last time
Its coming up to midnight
There must be someone else to blame

I'm flying half way across the world
Live for a while, but rep no words
In America
I'm flying half way across the world
Sleep for a while, but say no words
In America , In America

I'm flying half way across the world
Live for a while, but rep no words
In America
I'm flying half way across the world
Sleep for a while, but say no words

In America , In America
This is America

Visit Brettell page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

