the thirsty girl soaked up the rain and drinks and drinks for me again her friends stuck inside and are with constant drinking, not fair the girl herself which one you think should have and need plenty of drink this busy girl and you would guess byÂ's drunken fiery face, no less they drink and dance by the clubs light they drink and pull me through all the night nothing wrong with sober found but all health comes and goes round fill up their glasses, fill it high fill all the glasses there, who knows why should she always drink, and not Â'ÎÂ' why? am I the one who is never drunk tell me why? tell me why?
