Si passed the course today, o well
He's a lucky guy that made A grade
And although the course was rather sure
You all just had to laugh
If you saw the photograph

Paul blew his mind out in car
He didn't know notice the kerb was there
A crowd of people look and stared
They'd seen his face before
Nobody was really sure if he was from the clock indoors

Phill passed the course today, o well
Actually he passed it like some time before
A load of people wanted more
They all just had to look
At his answer book

A'I'll love to tell you more

Wakes up
Lee's out of there
Puts some gel across his hair
Found himself downstairs, and drinks a cup
Looking up, he notice he is late
Found his bag, and grabs his pass
Made the DB is seconds flat
Found his way upstairs and passed Neil and Champs
Somebody smoked, and he thinks bout his dream

I passed the course today, o well
Four thousand words a coursework I achieved
And even though the words were all spelt wrong
I had to (re) type them all
Now I can even start to begin to write another song

A'I'll love to tell you more
