MILLENNIUM PIE

A long, long time ago...
I can still remember how Computers used to make me smile.
And I knew
if I had my chance,
That I could make electrons dance,
And maybe I'd be happy for a while.
But January made me shiver, it chilled me deep down in my liver, Bad news I'd collected...
I couldn't get connected.
I can't remember back that day
When I first knew the Y2K
But something touched me anyway,
The day computers died.

So, ...Bye, bye to the next digit of Pi
Ran my PC on some DC but the voltage was dry
And good ol' boys were sending e-mail replies Saying this will be the day I retire
this will be the day I retire

Can you write in C plus plus?
And do you have faith in your local bus
If the driver tells you so?
Do you believe in Compaq's goals
Can software save your mortal soul
And can you teach me how to type real slow?
Well I thought that you were prepared 'Cause your memo said you weren't impaired
Your stationery's swell
But you can go to hell
I was a lonely teenage Unix hack With an incantation and a modem jack but I knew the cat had left the sack

The day computers died

I started singin'..
Bye, bye to the next digit of Pi
Ran my PC on some DC but the voltage was dry
And good ol' boys
were sending e-mail replies Saying this will be the day I retire this will be the day I retire

Now for 10 years we've ignored the threat
And we haven't solved the problem yet But that's not how it used to be When the luddites read for the king and queen with a light they filled with kerosene And some manuals they stole from you and me
And while Bill Gates was looking pleased Time stole his monopolies
The courtroom was adjourned
No verdict was returned While Apple tried a colour scheme
The engineers returned to steam
And we had purges of their dreams
The day computers died We were singin'

Bye, bye to the next digit of Pi
Ran my PC on some DC but the voltage was dry
And good ol' boys
were sending e-mail replies
Saying this will be the day I retire
this will be the day I retire

Intel inside in an iron smelter
The food left over from my fallout shelter Twinkies old and aging fast
I'd rather eat the grass
Q and A tried for a system crash With the tester on the sidelines in a cast Now the timeshare net was running Doom While mainframes played a marching tune
We all tried to log in Oh,
but we never could begin
'Cause Cobol tried to take the field,
And Hollerith refused to yield.
Do you recall what was revealed,
The day computers died?

We started singing

Bye, bye to the next digit of Pi
Ran my PC on some DC but the voltage was dry And good ol' boys were sending e-mail replies
Saying this will be the day I retire
this will be the day I retire

There we were all in a state
A generation- really late With no time left to start again
So come on mouse be nimble, mouse be quick Don't let my spreadsheet data stick 'Cause data is the devil's only friend.
As I watched him on my screen
My hands and face were drenched in steam No angel born in hell
Could run that stupid shell
And as the ball climbed high into the night
To call the sacrificial night
I saw Dick Clark
laughing with delight
The day computers died. We were singin'

Bye, bye to the next digit of Pi
Ran my PC on some DC but the voltage was dry
And good ol' boys
were sending e-mail replies
Saying this will be the day I retire
this will be the day I retire

I met a girl with a cell phone
And I asked her for a dial tone
But she just smiled and turned away
I went down to the software store Where I'd seen computers years before
But the man there said the games there wouldn't play And in the streets the children screamed The lovers cried and the poets dreamed their interface was spoken
The Internet was broken And the three things I connect to most
The Website, Lan and the Network host Every single one was toast
The day computers died They were singin'

Bye, bye to the next digit of Pi
Ran my PC on some DC but the voltage was dry

And good ol' boys were
sending e-mail replies
Saying this will be the day I retire
this will be the day I retire.
