You ain't the marryin' kind
You come and go like the wind
And you show up talkin' that talk
And I always let you in

I'm the forgivin' kind
So I open the door
I open my arms and I open my heart
And I don't expect nothin' more

And I take what I can get
Cus that's all that I can do
And I'm ok with the pain
That you put me through
Cus a little of you is better than
Nothing at all...
So I take you in small doses

I see you out on the town
All alone with your friends
And I turn away every time
Cus I can't take what I'm feelin'

And I don't know his name
But then again I never do
And I can't see a thing cus I know
It might change me and you

And I take what I can get
Cus that's all that I can do
And I'm ok with the pain
That you put me through
Cus a little of you is better than
Nothing at all...
So I take you in small doses

And I know it's just a matter of time
Til you walk again...
But I'll be here waitin' for you baby
When you wanna walk back in

Cus I take what I can get

Cus that's all that I can do
And I'm ok with the pain
That you put me through
Cus a little of you is better than
Nothing at all...
So I take you in small doses
