Can't get my head above the ground
Can't take the heat
Can't move on
I lose my thoughts within the sound
It's grabs my heart and pulls me down

I feel as buried as any of them
Another version of the faces I know
Another pound for the weight I tow

Another burial (for) a piece of me
Another vision that I'd rather not see
Another knife into the heart of me
Another funeral is killing

You go on without me but I'm dragged along
Another mark to remind me, how far I've fallen
